

THE FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

GEO. A. LEWIS, Publisher.

A WEEKLY PAPER—DEVOTED TO LOCAL AND SOCIETY NEWS.

TERMS: $1 00 In Advance.

VOL. XXIX.

FRANKFORT, KENTUCKY, SATURDAY, SEPT. 23, 1905.

NO. 3

REFUSED A MANDAMUS.

The County Election Board met on Wednesday last, September 20, and by a vote of 2 to 1, adjourned over until Saturday, thus postponing the appointment of election officers for the November election and the registration officers for October 3.

The law provides that said Board shall meet and appoint these officers not later than September 20th. As soon as this action was taken by the majority of the Board, the Republican member of the Board, Capt. C. C. Furr, and the Republican County Committee, applied for a mandamus from Judge Stout, compelling the Board to discharge their duty, as required under the law.

Argument was heard by Judge Stout, on Wednesday night (Mr. John W. Ray representing the plaintiffs and Mr. Wm. Cronwell the defendants). Judge Stout refused the writ on the ground that no injury would accrue to the plaintiffs by the postponement.

The plaintiffs claim that it was a trick to make illegal the appointment of election officers, and would work injury to their interests.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS ON AGAIN.

The breakage at the Electric Light plant, by which business houses have been cut off from electric lights, has been repaired and the lights turned on again. This is a welcome thing as the streets were not near so well lighted up without the lights in the show windows of the stores.

GRANTED LICENSE TO PERFORM MARRIAGE CEREMONY.

Rev. Geo. L. Horine, of Graefenburg, pastor of the Methodist Church, was granted license to perform the marriage ceremony in the county court on Saturday.

ELECTED DELEGATE TO STATE CONFERENCE.

Mrs. Nellie Steadman Cox was elected by Jos. H. Lewis Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, at the meeting held Saturday, to attend the State Conference at Birmingham, October 20th.

APPOINTED PRISON PHYSICIAN.

Dr. C. A. Fish, of this city, has been appointed Prison Physician to succeed the late Dr. Hugh L. Tobin.

Dr. Fish is an able young physician and surgeon, who has built up a fine practice since he came here a few years ago from Richmond. He was appointed by the State Board of Prison Commissioners. We tender our congratulations.

COURT OF APPEALS ASSEMBLES FOR FALL TERM.

The Court of Appeals met on Monday last for the September term. All the judges were on the bench except Judge Cantrill and Judge O'Rear.

Judge O'Rear was detained for a day or so, but took his seat later on.

Judge Cantrill will not sit this term.

MOVED HIS BASE.

Dr. L. T. Minish advertises, in to-day's paper, that he has changed his office from St. Clair street, to the rooms over Mr. Guy Barrett's News Depot, on Main street. His patients should bear this in mind.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers The famous little pills.

RECRUITS FOR U. S. NAVY.

The Naval Recruiting Station has enlisted the following young men, who will leave to-morrow for Newport News:

W. V. Coke, Milton Culter, Chas. Rhodes, Chas. Oliver, James Riggs, Stoddard J. Payne.

These, with those formerly enlisted from this city, make quite a goodly crowd.

METHODIST LADIES EXCHANGE.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Church will re-open their Exchange for the fall and winter to-day in the Collins building, on Main street. They will offer for sale cakes, pies, candy and other delicacies suitable for Sunday dinners. Give them a liberal share of patronage.

BIG DEAL IN TRACTION LINES.

Wealthy Company Buys Out Lexington, Paris, Georgetown and Frankfort Electric Roads.

One of the biggest deals of the year has been closed out and the transfers duly made. It includes all the electric lines now in existence or to be constructed in the cities of Lexington, Paris, Georgetown, Winchester and Frankfort. The amount of money involved is about $8,000,000. The deal is engineered by Mr. Louis DesCognettes, President of the Lexington Belt Lines, assisted by Judge Jere B. Morton, and was with a big corporation of Philadelphia financiers. This is one of the biggest things for the Blue Grass region that has ever transpired. It puts new life into the traction line from this city to Versailles and from Versailles to Lexington, beside a number of other lines which have only had franchises granted and surveys made.

We have been informed by a gentleman in a position to know, that the line from here to Versailles will be put under contract at once and pushed to completion, if possible, by the first of January.

A large amount of money will be expended in our community, and it behooves every one to heartily second the work that means so much for the prosperity of our growing and thriving city.

The settlement of the capital question gave an impetus to affairs that has long been needed, and now that this is to be followed up by the building of this electric line, and other enterprises which are booked; it is high time that we were coming up to the measure of our duty as a city.

Every effort should be made in clearing away the obstacles in the way of the erection of the big union depot, so that our transportation facilities may be adequate to the demand.

APPOINTED.

Dr. N. M. Garrett, of this city, has been appointed by the Governor as a delegate to the Military Surgeons' National Convention, which will meet at Detroit, Mich., next week.

Dr. Garrett was a surgeon of the Fourth Kentucky Volunteers in the Spanish War and afterwards Contract Surgeon in the Philippines. This is a deserved compliment to an able and efficient physician and surgeon.

STARTLING MORTALITY.

Statistics show startling mortality, from appendicitis and peritonitis. To prevent and cure these awful diseases, there is just one reliable remedy, Dr. King's New Life Pills. M. Flannery, of 14 Custom House Place, Chicago, says: "They have no equal for Constipation and Biliousness. 25c at all druggists."

WHY NOT BRING IT HERE.

The rumor is out that the Old Mason's Home and farm, located near Shelbyville, is to be sold and a more advantageous location purchased. If this be so, why shall not the city of Frankfort make an endeavor to secure it? This city is centrally located and a good farm can be purchased at reasonable rates upon which to erect the buildings.

It is well worth trying for.

NUMEROUS AND WORTHLESS

Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co. have discovered some years ago how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for Piles. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding Piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

THE FUSION TICKET.

The friends of the movement to nominate a fusion ticket for city officers met at the Courthouse, on Monday night and nominated the following gentlemen:

Mayor—Kerner Taylor.
City Judge—D. W. Lindsey.
City Marshal—Nevill B. White.

FOR CITY COUNCIL.

There was a large crowd present. Mr. Taylor accepted the nomination in a few appropriate words. The fight is now on in good hard earnest.

PRISONERS FOR THE PEN.

Mr. Henry Collins, of Campbellsville, came up Monday with four prisoners for the penitentiary, who were sentenced at the recent term of the Taylor County Circuit Court.

SAD SUICIDE.

The sad news was received in this city, on Friday night, that Mr. Wm. M. Combs, formerly of this city, but recently of Owensboro, had committed suicide, by taking laudanum, in that city, that day.

Mr. Combs was a genial, whole-souled gentleman, and had many friends in this city, where he resided for a long time, and whose hearts were saddened by this untoward event.

Let us cast the mantle of charity over his faults, which have thus bitterly been answered for, and remember his many virtues as jolly friend and brother.

OUT WITH THE TIDE.

An Illustrative Instance of How Far It Will Carry Objects in a Short Time.

"Few persons have any idea of how fast the tide runs or of how far it will carry an object in a very few hours," said the captain of one of the dock department's steam launches, according to the New York Times. "Not very long ago a raft of 40 or 50 pigs broke up and went adrift one night at the foot of East Twenty-fourth street. As these pigs cost all the way from eight dollars to $20 apiece, they were worth chasing, so just as soon as the loss was discovered in the morning I started out."

The search continued down the East river and along the Brooklyn side through Buttermilk channel, but without results. Over on the south shore of Governor's island we found eight or ten of the missing sticks. We ran along down by Bay Ridge, and had about decided to abandon our efforts, when we reached Fort Hamilton. But we thought we might as well make a good job of it, and a little way farther on, just beyond the Narrows and around on the north side of Gravesend bay, we found about half of the wayward pigs. They had traveled down there, a distance of about ten miles, on one tide, and I thought at the time that it is small wonder that so many drowned bodies are never recovered in these parts."

Remarkable Escape.

One of the greatest curiosities in the neighborhood of New York is now to be seen at the foot of the Palisades. Between two frame houses built there is a giant boulder 34 feet high and 30 feet wide, which fell from a great height, at the top of the Palisades, and sweeping down the front of the cliffs, uprooted big trees, tore up tons of loose stones and cut a wide swath the entire distance. Finally, after zig-zagging from one side to the other, it rolled in between two frame houses and stopped there. The people were asleep in the houses when the rock started. They had barely time to make their escape when it made its appearance at their front doors. They are now thanking their lucky stars that the enormous stone did not hit one of the buildings.

Better Done in Germany.

"The whole cab-charge of Germany is regulated in a way to make the American curious of German habits," writes Ray Stannard Baker, in "Seen in Germany." In most cities, a large proportion of the cabs are provided with "taximeters"—little dial placed in front of the seat and so arranged that they indicate just how much the passenger owes at any given time. For instance, when you take a cab in Berlin the indicator shows a charge of 50 pfennigs (10 cents) as soon as you take your seat and as you drive the figure changes 40 pfennigs at a time, and when you are ready to stop you pay the sum indicated by the dial, no more, no less. Thus there is no chance for extortion on the part of the cabman, and no disagreement as to charges, a feature of disagreeable prominence in London and Paris. And it may be said in passing that the charges are generally very low compared with those in American cities.

CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR.

We are authorized to announce Mr. KENNER TAYLOR as a candidate for Mayor of the city of Frankfort, subject to the action of the people. Election November, 1905.

20-2c.

ABLE AND ELOQUENT SERMON.

We are in receipt of a copy of the Church Visitor, a Methodist monthly, published in Cincinnati, Ohio, which contains an able and eloquent sermon, which was preached before the Methodist Conference at Springfield, Ohio, by Rev. Dr. Howard Henderson, September 8th. His theme was "Autumn Leaves," and he took as his text the inquiry of Pharaoh as to Jacob's age and the reply of the Patriarch.

It was a grand showing of the difference between the life of an earnest, Godly man and that of the drone and the beast.

In burning words the eloquent preacher warned the young against inoculation with the virus of the idea that life was simply to live fast and have a good time; and invited them to the higher and grander life of service and usefulness.

The sermon proves emphatically that our old-time friend has lost none of the vigor and pathos with which he waked the people of this city to duty and to service in the days of long ago.

We also are in receipt of a handsome lithograph of our friend, the author, for which we are under obligations.

"SWEET CHARITY."

Arrangement is on foot among the physicians of the city to induce the Prison Commissioners to permit them to serve in turn gratuitously as Prison Physician until the end of the late Dr. Hugh L. Tobin's term, thus enabling the Board to pay over the salary, $100 per month, to the widow and heirs of the dead doctor.

The need is great, the move a commendable one, and we hope may be carried out.

WITHDRAW.

The following card explains itself: Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 21, 1905. Chas. Newton, Esq., Secretary Citizens' Meeting.

Dear Sir—While we feel complimented by the nomination given us for School Trustees at your meeting on Monday night last, and while we are in sympathy with the uprising against machine politics, we feel that inasmuch as the three gentlemen now candidates before the people without previous opposition for endorsement and re-election to these positions have given us a clean and nonpartisan administration in their management of school affairs, they should be endorsed rather than opposed. We, therefore, withdraw our names as candidates for School Trustees, and in doing so we request that you do not replace our names with those of other candidates. We are actuated in the above not only by our own preference in the matter, but by what we find to be the general sentiment that the present school board should be endorsed, which sentiment prevails also among those who have been prominent in securing our nominations. Thanking you for partiality shown us, we are

Yours truly,
J. R. ELLIOTT,

Kidney Troubles Attack Frankfort Men and Women Old and Young Alike.

Kidney ills seize young and old alike—Quickly come and little warning give. Children suffer in their early years—Can't control the kidney secretions—Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain. Women worry, can't do daily work. Robust men have lame and aching backs. Old folks, weak, rheumatic, lame, endure distressing urinary ills. The cure for man, for woman, or for child is to cure the cause—the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys—Cure all the varied forms of kidney suffering.

Frankfort testimony guarantees every box.

Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, wife of W. M. Johnson, market man, residing at 340 Hinton St., says: "My son, Lorenzo, was greatly benefited by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Some time ago he had a bad spell of rheumatism, the attack being so severe that he was hardly able to move about. From that time on his kidneys seemed to be badly affected for he complained a great deal of a steady, dull aching pain in his kidneys, especially if he stooped or lifted anything. A weakness of the kidney secretions was very annoying at night as it disturbed his rest. One evening I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in our papers and a box was procured at J. W. Gayle's drug store. He began taking them at my request, and to my glad surprise, as well as his own, he noticed almost immediate relief. In a short time the backache had entirely left him, the difficulty with the kidney secretions had been corrected and he felt as well as he ever did."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Don't it prove that August Flower has had unflinching success in the cure of indigestion and dyspepsia—the worst enemies of health and happiness? Does it not afford the best evidence that August Flower is a sure specific for all stomach and intestinal disorders—that it is the best of all liver regulators? August Flower has a matchless record of over 35 years in curing the ailing millions of these distressing complaints. 2 Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

FRANKFORT, SEPT. 23 1905

A SEARCHING SERMON.

Rev. Dr. M. B. Adams, the eloquent young pastor of the First Baptist Church, delivered a fine sermon, on Sunday night, from the text, "And Daniel purposed in his heart not to defile himself," his theme being "The Story of a Young Politician."

It was a clear and well conceived illustration of the truth that the man who has convictions of right and wrong and the courage to abide by those convictions, regardless of consequences, is the man who makes a success of life and leaves behind him influences for good that will live long after he has mouldered back to the earth from whence he came.

It was a withering denunciation of the too common idea that men (and women, too), ought to drift with the tide, and not have the independence and conscientiousness to stand for right, morality and religion at all times and under all circumstances. He denounced the graft and corruption now so rampant in civic life, and referred in glowing terms of eulogy to the courageous young Governor of Missouri, who had stemmed the fearful tide of corruption in the big city of St. Louis, and State of Missouri, had won out in the battle for civic righteousness, and was honored by all true men and women.

The preacher earnestly and tenderly besought his audience to stand firmly for the right in public life as well as private life, averring that there were no two standards of right—what was right and true in private life, was just as imperative in public affairs.

The only regret we have in this matter is that every public man in the city was not present to hear the forceful presentation of the theme as made by the fearless preacher. It would have been a wholesome thing for all.

An attractive feature of the service was the trio, sung by Mrs. M. B. Adams, Miss Margaret Rogers and Mr. John G. Rogers, introductory to the sermon. It was a beautiful and attractive rendering of the sacred song.

VERY COMPLIMENTARY.

In the report made to the Court of Appeals, on Monday by Judge Settle, of his official examination of the office, he pays a high compliment to Mr. J. Morgan Chinn, Clerk of the Court of Appeals, upon the efficient and faithful performance of the duties of his office.

Mr. Chinn is one of the cleverest gentlemen in the State, and we heartily congratulate him upon the good showing made by this report.

Throat Coughs

A tickling in the throat; hoarseness at times; a deep breath irritates it—these are features of a throat cough. They're very deceptive and a cough mixture won't cure them. You want something that will heal the inflamed membranes, enrich the blood and tone up the system.

Scott's Emulsion

is just such a remedy. It has wonderful healing and nourishing power. Removes the cause of the cough and the whole system is given new strength and vigor.

Mental

Strain Affected General Health.

Doctor's Doses Weakened Stomach.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cured Me.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine brings rest and sweet sleep to the tired brain worn out with the cares and anxieties of the sick room. Read the following:

"I have always been healthy with the exception of a touch of rheumatism since my case came on, up to the time of my husband's last illness some years ago. I assisted in nursing my husband for nearly three months when he departed this life and the mental strain I think caused my trouble. Aside from extreme nervousness my trouble commenced with sore throat and neuralgia. My physician gave me purgative doses which weakened me very much and my stomach for a time seemed inactive. Mental strain and the dormant condition of my stomach soon told upon my general health. I had little appetite and was soon forced to stay in bed a greater part of the time. Within a week after the time I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Tonic I was up about the house. I continued their use until completely cured. My faith in Dr. Miles' Remedies has been strengthened by experience of other people, our daughter having used Restorative Nervine with splendid results in a case of para ysis and a friend to whom I sent a box of the Anti-Fain Pills reports that she has been completely cured of neuralgia by their use. I know of a number of others whose your medicine has helped in a large degree. I wish you continued success."

"HOME COMING WEEK."

Louisville Commercial Club Wants to Invite all Former Kentuckians to Visit the State Next Spring.

WANTED—The names and addresses of all Kentuckians who have moved to other States.

Did you know that the last census shows that there are over six hundred thousand Kentuckians living in other States? Well, it's a fact!

How many of these former Kentuckians do you know?

The Commercial Club of Louisville wants the names of as many of these as it is possible to get. It desires to extend invitations to every Kentuckian who has moved away to come back next Spring and attend the "Home Coming Week" festivities at Louisville.

Plans are rapidly maturing for this great event. The Commercial Club hopes to make it a red letter week on Kentucky's historical calendar. There will be "something doing" seven days and nights and then the crowd will disperse and go to different parts of the State to remain as long as the low railroad rates are in effect, as the arrangement made with the railroads will include a low rate to all points of Kentucky for "Home Coming Week" in Louisville.

If you have any friends or relatives who have moved to other States, please send the names and addresses at once to the Commercial Club, Louisville, Ky.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY GUILD.

The Woman's Auxiliary Guild of Ascension Church will hold a meeting in their room in the Orphanage, on Tuesday, September 26th. A full attendance is earnestly desired, as business of importance will be transacted.

There will be four general presents of $100, $50, $30 and $20, and sixteen presents of $30 and $20 to be given in the States of Kentucky, Indiana, Tennessee, Texas, Mississippi, Missouri, Virginia and Alabama. The plan is fair and simple. Write to the Courier-Journal Company, Louisville, Ky., for a copy of the Weekly Courier-Journal, giving full details. It will be sent free.

BIG DELEGATION OF LOUISVILLE BUSINESS MEN ATTEND STATE FAIR.

A big delegation (estimated at about 800) of Louisville business men passed through this city, on Tuesday, en route to the State Fair at Lexington.

When the train reached this city a majority of the passengers marched to the State Capitol grounds, headed by the First Regiment Band, and were welcomed in an appropriate address by Secretary of State, H. V. McChesney, which was responded to by Mr. V. H. Engelhardt, of Louisville. The train remained something over half an hour and the crowd visited points of interest about the city.

Later on they proceeded on their journey to attend "Louisville Day," at the State Fair.

A TRIUMPH OF THE PRINTERS' ART.

The Lexington Herald's souvenir fair edition of Tuesday was a hummer. It contained 60 pages of matter, the greater part of which was of great interest to the people of the Blue Grass region, especially, but generally to the people of the State at large and in fact the whole country. The managers of that paper deserve great credit for their splendid work.

When one gets Ballard's Obelisk, Miles' M. K. M., Old John or Marguerite Flours they get a Flour made from sound, dry wheat, as the mills at which these flours are made are located in sections so they are enabled to draw their supplies of wheat from States that harvested and threshed their wheat and put it on the market in first-class shape, while local mills are compelled to use wheat that was harvested and threshed damp. Wheat once wet can never be dried to make first-class flour. It will pay those wanting good flour to ask their grocers for the above brands. CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectation in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those that use German Syrup. Trial bottle, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

ORDER OF STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

The following order was promulgated by the State Board of Health on Wednesday night last:

State Board of Health of Kentucky, Bowling Green, Ky., September 19, 1905.

Whereas, reports have come to this board from the Board of Health of the city of Frankfort, signed by its President and Secretary and Health Officer, and from the County Board of Health of Franklin County, signed by a quorum of said board and its Health Officer, and from Dr. B. W. Smock, as sanitary inspector from this board, who has made a special and careful investigation, that diphtheria exists in epidemic form in Franklin county; and

Whereas, arrangements have been made for holding a street fair in Frankfort, beginning on the 25th of this month, which said officials report would be highly dangerous to the public health; now, therefore,

Be it known, by the authority vested in it by law, the State Board of Health of Kentucky hereby establishes the following regulations to prevent the spread of the epidemic of diphtheria in Franklin county, in addition to the rules and regulations heretofore established and published:

1. All public meetings or assemblages of people, as circuses, shows, street fairs, or other fairs, are hereby prohibited, until the City and County Boards of Health of Frankfort and Franklin County, respectively, shall certify to this board that their jurisdictions are free from further danger of spread of the disease.

2. All persons, whether residents of this State or coming into this State, are hereby prohibited from taking part in, attending or organizing any assemblage of the people of Frankfort, or of Franklin county, in any circus, show, street or other fair, or elsewhere, until this epidemic is over.

3. The Sheriff of Franklin County and the Chief of Police of Frankfort are directed to carry into effect and to enforce these regulations, and to prevent any such assemblages as may be referred to herein, and to arrest and carry before the courts having jurisdiction any person or persons violating these regulations.

These regulations are made and must be enforced under the pains and penalties of law.

By order of the State Board of Health of Kentucky, at Bowling Green, Ky., this day and date, above-named.

J. M. MATHEWS, M. D., President.
J. N. McCORMACK, M. D., Secretary.

After the above proclamation was issued by the State Board of Health, the Executive Committee of the Street Fair issued the following statement:

Owing to the fact that the State Board of Health has prohibited the holding of the Street Fair in this city the week beginning September 25th, the local committee having the fair in charge see nothing else to do but to declare the fair off.

This is done with much regret as the committee has been put to a great deal of expense in getting up the fair, and what money has been expended will be a total loss.

Resides this it is, or will be, the cause of a great loss to the Carnival to be engaged by the committee, as they will be unable at this date to make any other engagement for that week.

It is the opinion of nearly everyone that the agitation of there being so much diphtheria in the community will be the means of causing people to stay away from the city, and thus mean the loss of business to our home merchants.

MY LADY OF THE NORTH

The new romance by the author of "When Wilderness Was King" is now being read everywhere.

It is the love-story of a flashing Southern officer and is even better than Mr. Parrish's first book.

If you have not read it yet, do not wait another day. Ask your bookseller for a copy. Once fairly started you will be lost to all outside distractions.

A DANGEROUS DESCENT.

Pathetically Understanding of Two Daring Workmen on the Niagara Falls Bridge.

Reckless daring is so often displayed by workmen whose daily labors place them in positions of danger that those who have to deal with them are astonished at no feat of bravado. Mr. Frank Skinner gives in McClure's Magazine an instance of this daring on the part of men who were engaged in replacing the Niagara suspension bridge.

It happened that so many valuable tools were dropped from the bridge that some of the more careless lower were discharged. Consequently, when one day a man dropped a wrench 300 feet to the water's edge, he foolishly started to recover it by descending hand over hand on a steeply inclined, thin wire cable nearly 500 feet long.

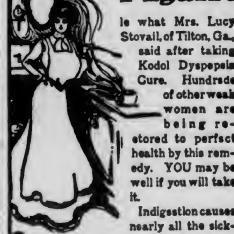

He had no sooner started on his insane exploit than a rival, out of sheer bravado, essayed to descend an adjacent rope. After going a few feet they both realized the almost impossible nature of the journey they had undertaken, and tried to return. It could not be done, and the only chance of safety lay in continuing their descent.

It seemed to their horrified companions that human muscles could not endure the increasing strain of that long passage downward. The foreman shouted instructions, interspersed with violent abuse, the object of which was to divert them from the fright that added to their danger.

By what seemed almost a miracle both men held on until they had crossed the water. Then one of them dropped safely into a tree top. The other finally gave out, and fell a considerable distance to the ground. Both, however, escaped practically unharmed.

(Written for the Roundabout.)
"GHOSTS"—A STORY FOR MEN ONLY.

Chapter X—"Qualis ab incepto."

"The only difference between the world and myself, is that the others hide it from hypocrisy, while I tell you plainly from frankness."

"Dare you say, Tom, that in a hundred individuals you could guarantee one who does not feel the same? Yourself first, particularly you!"

"Be honest for the time and cross words if not swords—you know. The energies which cause physical changes are called physical forces. The energies which cause mental changes I call intellectual changes. And the uniform way in which such an energy acts, I call intellectual changes. And the uniform way in which such an energy acts, I call mental therapeutics. There are also physical laws and forces—the systematic arrangement of which phenomena is termed science, and the systematic classification of soul, or spirit, or ghost phenomena, I call psychology. Formula:

"Mind.
"Soul.
"Spirit.
"An ego.
"A ghost—self."

"I shall not enter upon the diagnostics of perception, sense perception, or apperception, but with the ghost of self as the face to face with the outer world, as separate and distinct a unit in the economy of space, as the mountain top above, and apart from the valley below. Self (as mind) concentrates itself. Self (as soul) is understanding. Self (as spirit) is wisdom. Self (as ego) is the absolute freedom of thought, energies, and possibilities in space, time, existence, light, beauty, truth, cause, eternity."

"No one can deny existence—self—the ego—that he or she grows old as do the other forms of life, of creation; yet but few grasp, distinctly and fully, certain forms of ideas as the conception of perfected unity, or the co-ordinate of things which appears to Tennyson holding the tiny flowering plant so beautifully expressed:

"I pluck you out of the crannies; Hold you here, root and all, in my hand. Little flower—but if I could understand What you are, root and all, all in all, I should know what God and man are."

"Self—as ghost—is the power to weave into dream and vision the experiences of life; this phantom is the safety valve of reason, it dwells in the world of shadows, the phantom world of the unconscious, and where so many problems remain to-day unsolved."

"Agnosticism is intellectual suicide. It is also spiritual suicide, and now that I am converted, a knowledge of my own capabilities renders agnosticism in any form impossible. To know myself is the command of God, and I obey implicitly."

"In the providence of the All-wise you came to us to lead us out of that depth of despair in which we were lost to growth or happiness, even to each other. You were indulgent to both of us when we were so weak in the face of evil, you were so brave as to combat every difficulty, so diligent to hold out the way of escape; so human in your sympathy, so loyal to your friends. Could such a factor be in any wise ignored, or could it be the future life though lost to sight as you must be, dear Tom, to both of us? It is the greatest of causes of or for such a separation. It is for the same reason that climates differ; races inhabit, classes inhibit; the great law of cause and effect—of circumstances and prohibition. The right of spirit, of self, to go where glory awaits, or to dwell separate and distinct personalities, in the united kingdom of service, unknown save to those who suffer and yet are strong."

"Cynthia's coming to us and going away from us was but a link in the golden chain of knowledge, a pearl in the net of light, a real problem to be met as one would meet an enemy and conquer him by kindness. I worship no longer idols. The complete reconciliation of marriage vows are transcendent. The ideal has become a reality. We live in the supreme happiness of the one—and that one, the other. There is no longer fear, for a perfected love loveth out to all feet."

"I have dedicated my services to God. My conversation mean work in Japan, to which country we are to start to-morrow. After we see you safe on board the train, but my wife wants to speak with you."

"Hear her patiently. I do not know the import of the interview. Seal your own lips, then she, too, may pass into the realm of memory—as a sweet impression upon your sense of recollection, the remembrance of perfume lingering in the broken vases of regret, the sadness of a lingering absence lost, the forgiveness of injustice unrequited. Farewell!"

We clasp hands with tears. We made vows unspoken. We kissed in the spirit of unceasing friendship, and as I looked once more into his face he passed from my sight; still a unit in the economy of self as when he first came into my life, the dearest friend of my boyhood, the acme of my dreams! My head was resting in my hands, when "Jack's wife" came to me, her soft swirl of garments calling me back to the present happening, whatever this might prove. She prefaced her interview with briefest words of thanks. I accepted these with a simple inclination of the head. I wrote them on the tablet of my heart with a pen of diamond. The sweet voice took up the pleasant conversation to which I listened with most respectful attention.

Certain passions, my friend, flow peacefully like the streams in the "Pays de l'Inde," between pleasant banks, but a few chance obstacles in their way, such as a bank that is steeper than others, the stump of a tree thrown across them, perhaps innocently, which are intended rather to beautify the landscape than to trouble the current of the river. When such passions overflow, it is in a stream of tears, which do no harm to any one, and with a little piece of cambric, and a few kind words of soothing, peace is soon made. Such a condition seems to have been mine in the years that are gone, but which are to be so no longer for the bank has become a mountain, and you are the stump of a tree a bridge over which I shall walk to a newness of life consistent with the peace of the stream, the peacefulness of its companion, the environment, and the current of its tide, leaving behind only the serenity of self, the impurities of thought; and the caretakers of desire. You remember the story of my life. That is a sealed book. Jack and I are forever one, a part of God's world. His creation in the real, as well as the ideal happiness, and we shall become factors in the philosophy of events, as well as the psychology of results. We came into your life to prove the reality of "ghosts." You dare not disregard the warning nor take unto yourself the personality of unbelief. We shall come into the quiet of your chamber, the silence of your spirit, the room of your memory, the selfishness of your dreams as other ghosts shall come. To comfort you as cherubim your ideals. We part, "I trust, but you have only to impress us with the power of thought and we shall be a part and a power for your advancement. 'God is for us who shall say him nay.' She pressed her sweet lips to my forehead, and passed away in the eventful stream of tears that washed from my consciousness every lot of self, leaving only the right to remember Jack's wife."

Hyman carried my belongings, and Jack and I walked to the outer world to catch the train. We talked as those do who expect to meet again. There were to be no more every year, and a picture if possible and then with a wave of handkerchief the train started on its journey, and looking up to the retreating mountains, he said:

"And when the arrows of sunset Lodged in the treetops bright, He fell, in his saintlike beauty Alone by the gates of light. Therefore, of all the pictures That hang on memory's wall The one of the dim old forest Seemeth the best of all."

MY WIFE'S FAMILY.

Stephen's & Linton's Great Musical Farce Comedy Success Coming.

The Louisville Post of Tuesday says of "My Wife's Family," which is playing the Masonic Theatre in Louisville this week, and which comes to Capitol Theatre next Tuesday, September 26, for one performance.

Mirth and music will hold the boards at the Masonic Theatre all of this week, the attraction being "My Wife's Family." It is a clever farce, full of laugh-compelling lines, ludicrous situations and novel specialties. Though seen here last season, the piece has been worked over to such an extent and so many new features have been added that it would not do the piece justice to compare it with last year's production.

Of course so far as the thread of the farcical story goes, it is the same as last season's production. A mother-in-law comes to visit her daughter, and bring all of the other members of the family. It develops at the outset that she is on a "trouble-hunting" expedition, and it is not long before she has succeeded in fairly overwhelming the distracted son-in-law in domestic unhappiness. Not content to wage a single-handed fight, the husband enlists the services of a man about town, known as Doc Knott. This resourceful ally develops surprising talent for coping with the mother-in-law's whims, and in the course of a short time has brought matters to a crisis with the son-in-law well out of the woods. Of course these things can't happen without furnishing all sorts of ridiculous situations and mirth-provoking entanglements. The fun is of the fast and furious style, and laughs come in a rapid fire.

Arthur Don, the eccentric comedian, furnishes some of the most delightful humor. He is the center storm-center, and from him radiate all degrees of meriment from the humorous smile to the volubrious outburst of unrestrained hilarity. Tom Linton, in the role of the henpecked husband, makes capital enough out of his marital troubles to keep the audience well in sympathy with him. He has the stamp of an excellent character actor, and adds materially to the strength of the show.

Rita Knight, a stately beauty, brings the charms of comeliness to the piece, and Mabel Gray, as the mother-in-law, shows ability for character work.

CONFEDERATE REUNION.

The Kentucky State Confederate reunion will be held at the Confederate Home, Pewee Valley, Thursday, October 26, at 11 a. m. An official announcement of the reunion was issued Wednesday by Bennett H. Young, Major General commanding the Kentucky division, and Adj. Gen. W. A. Milton.

Ample accommodations will be provided for all attending veterans and visitors, and a large gathering is anticipated. The officials have issued a notice requesting each camp to appoint a sponsor for the reunion. It is thought that all of the business can be transacted in one day.

INCREDIBLE BRUTALITY.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "out a fearful gasp over his eye, so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye." Good for burns and ulcers too. Only 25c at all druggists.
